Valuation Bill

2024

THE VALUATION BILL, 2024 MEMORANDUM

1.0. Object of the Bill

The object of the Bill is to provide for the Office of the Chief Government Valuer to undertake statutory valuations; to establish the Institute of Certified Valuers of Uganda and the Council as its governing body; to provide for membership of the Institute; to regulate practising valuation; to provide for Professional Code of Ethics for certified valuers and practising valuers; to provide for reconciliation of valuations; to provide for offences and penalties relating to valuation; to provides for general rules of valuation including purposes of valuation and valuation standards; to amend the Surveyors Registration Act, Cap. 303, and for related matters.

2.0. Defects

Valuations are used to inform decisions in both the private and public sectors such as real estate and financial markets, infrastructure development, urban development, fiscal regimes, manufacturing and extractives industry, international trade, among others. Despite this critical role, the valuation function in Uganda is largely limited to land and land developments, with un-streamlined pre and post training curriculum, absence of binding practice standards and an unclear professionalisation framework.

The effect of this is evident in unreliable and unrealistic valuations, and inadequate valuation professional practices which have led to delayed implementation of public investments and infrastructure projects, financial loss, contestations of Government valuations, increased litigation against Government and hefty court awards, as well as imperfect real estate markets, non-performing loans, among others. The aforementioned problems imply that there is need to properly regulate the valuation function for it to fully contribute to the social economic transformation of the country.

3.0. Remedies

The Bill therefore seeks to develop and implement a comprehensive regulatory framework for the valuation function in Uganda that will yield professionalised valuers who are well regulated to provide quality valuation services.

The expected outcomes of enacting the Bill include-

- (a) a regulated valuation function;
- (b) increased public confidence in valuation function and services;
- (c) a professionalised valuation function;
- (d) strengthened office responsible for Government valuations;
- (e) realistic and reliable valuations;
- (f) improved efficiency of the real estate and financial markets; and
- (g) efficient land acquisition processes.
